LEGEND:
REPRESENTED IS A SYMBOLIC COMPOSITION OF THE SPECIAL CHARACTER OF THIS SCHOOL. UPON A PICTURE OF A FEW OF OUR ALUMNI ARE IMPRESSED THREE FIGURES REPRESENTING THE SCHOLASTIC VIRTUES OF GOODNESS, DISCIPLINE AND KNOWLEDGE. THE BRICKS SYMBOLIZE THE CHRISTIAN VIRTUES, THE MORTAR THE BINDING FORCE OF CHARITY. TOGETHER THEY REPRESENT THE IMPREGNABLE SOLIDARITY WHICH THE EDUCATION OF CATHOLIC CENTRAL PRESENTS TO THE CORRODING AND DESTRUCTIVE FORCES OF MATERIALISM AND SIN.

The culmination of four years under the direction of the Basilian Fathers at Catholic Central will leave many varied impressions on each and every member of the 1959 Graduating Class.

For some it will mean the seeking of higher education at the college and university level; to others the following of Christ's calling to the sacred order of the priesthood; and there will be those who will go forth to take their place in every day society as husbands, providers and above all good Catholic laymen. Looking back on these formative years at Catholic Central one can readily appreciate the task the good Fathers have had to undertake in preparing a wide variety of individuals for a vast number of vocations.

It is through you the class of '59 and all previous graduating classes that Catholic Central High School will be judged by friends and associates.

That is why in this age of guided missiles, cold wars and corruption, you the graduates of 1959 must endeavor to carry out the motto of Catholic Central, as taught you over the past four years, namely: "Teach me Goodness, Discipline and Knowledge."

GOODNESS:

IT IS THE AIM OF THE BASILIAN FATHERS OF CATHOLIC CENTRAL TO IMPART TO THEIR STUDENTS THE FACT THAT THEY MUST KEEP GOD IN THEIR DAILY LIVES, BOTH IN SCHOOL AND OUT OF SCHOOL, AS STUDENTS AND LONG AFTER THEY LEAVE THE CLASSROOMS OF THEIR ALMA MATER. CONSEQUENTLY, THEY TRY TO INSTILL, FIRST OF ALL, THE PRINCIPLES OF TRUE GOODNESS, REALIZING THAT THERE CAN BE NO REAL GOODNESS APART FROM THE MEANS THAT GOD GAVE TO DRAW US NEAR THE SOURCE OF ALL GOODNESS: THE SACRAMENTS, THE MASS, OUR PARENTS, OUR TEACHERS, AND HUMBLE PRAYER.

THE VERY REVEREND WILFRID KEHOE, C.S.B.
Principal of Catholic Central High School

principal's message

Dear Students;

Isn't it unfortunate that we get used to many things. Things which become so familiar by repetition that little by little we become insensitive to them. Take our school motto for example — "Teach me goodness, discipline, and knowledge." I am sure that you could never count the number of times that you have heard or read these words since you first came to Catholic Central. So many times I am afraid, that repetition has produced a dullness that their real meaning never penetrates.

How unfortunate if this be true, because the motto of our school summarizes the whole story of Catholic Central. It expresses in a few words the purpose, the inspiring force, the dream of the school. So to leave Catholic Central without understanding this simple prayer for goodness, discipline, and knowledge would be to leave without ever understanding the real spirit of your alma mater.

The motto, selected by the Basilian Fathers when the community was founded nearly one hundred and forty years ago, was adopted as the motto of Catholic Central when the school was established in 1928. Actually, it is much older than either the Basilian Fathers or Catholic Central. It is taken from Psalm 118, and there in their pristine setting the words are enshrined in the psalmist's prayer for loyalty to God.

Here is the picture that our motto paints: goodness, complete consecration to God; discipline, virile mastery of ourselves; and knowledge, an insatiable love of truth,— all united with the golden thread of unswerving loyalty to our Creator.

This is the reason for a Catholic Central. It must be the ambition of every student, the driving force of every aluminus. Any lesser purpose would blister the lips of your Alma Mater with a traitor's kiss.

Sincerely,

W. M. Kehoe C.S.B.

The Chalice on our school crest is symbolic of Sacrifice. It commemorates the redemptive sacrifice of Christ and also points up the sacrificial lives which teachers must lead in their untiring efforts to educate us in Christian Virtue and Truth. In this manner they are again likened to Christ the Teacher, who by their labors follow His admonition to "teach all". They who are so close to God by mind and will are also the best instruments in schooling us in the virtues of Goodness, Discipline and Knowledge, but above all in Goodness which is "diffusive of itself."

MOTHERS' CLUB

The Mothers attend their monthly Mass.

Unheralded, unassuming and unswerving are able adjectives for our dedicated Moms. Oh, they have their parties and admire each other's hats, but apart from these fancies the Mothers Club is devoted to Catholic Central's physical, material and spiritual welfare. To this end they come together monthly to discuss ways and means, to find out what can be done about their sons' grades and to ask at Mass and Benediction for God's continued blessings for their special adopted cause — Catholic Central.

The Mothers have an opportunity to discuss their sons' progress with the teachers.

fathers' club

This year the Fathers' Club might very well be called the "Fathers and Sons Club." They have shared their activities on at least four occasions: the Father and Son Night, the Communion-Breakfast, the Sunday Bowling League, and the Ticket Drive, undertaken by the Dads and brought to a very successful conclusion by the sons.

These events have given the men of the family an opportunity to share their common interests and thereby to strengthen the ties between sons and fathers which naturally separate to some degree at the High School age. They have enjoyed being together and it is all due to the capable and sage Members, Executive and Moderator of the Fathers' Club.

Mr. Jim O'Donnell shows good form during the Father and Son Sunday Bowling League.

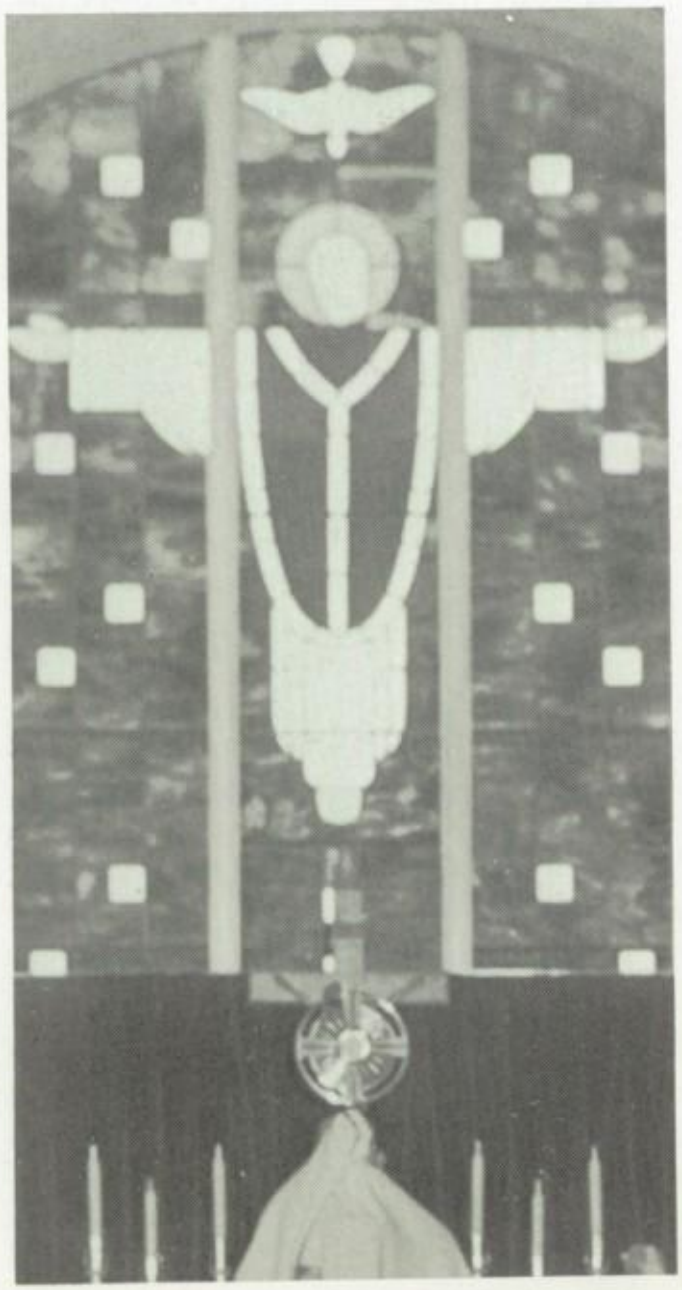
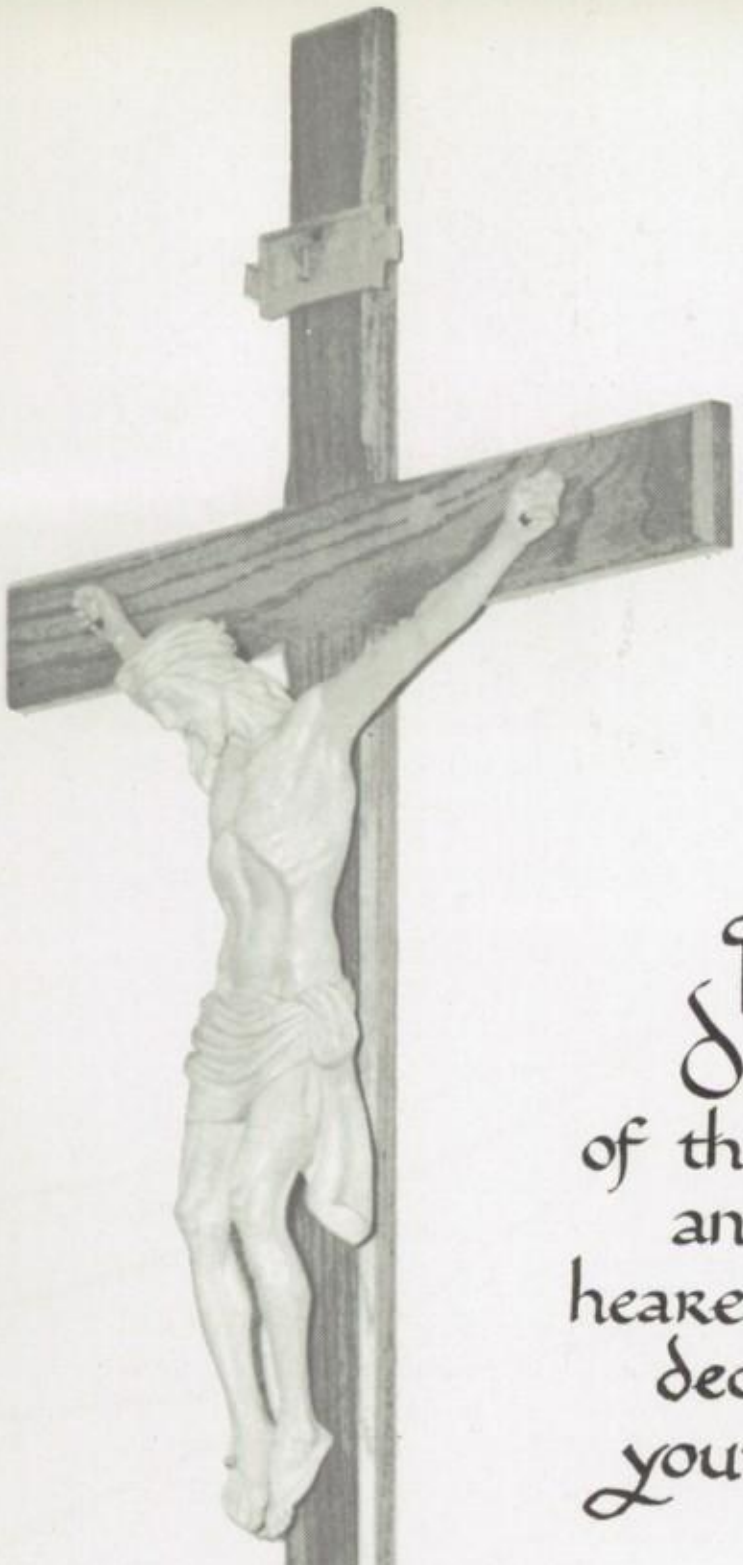
RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

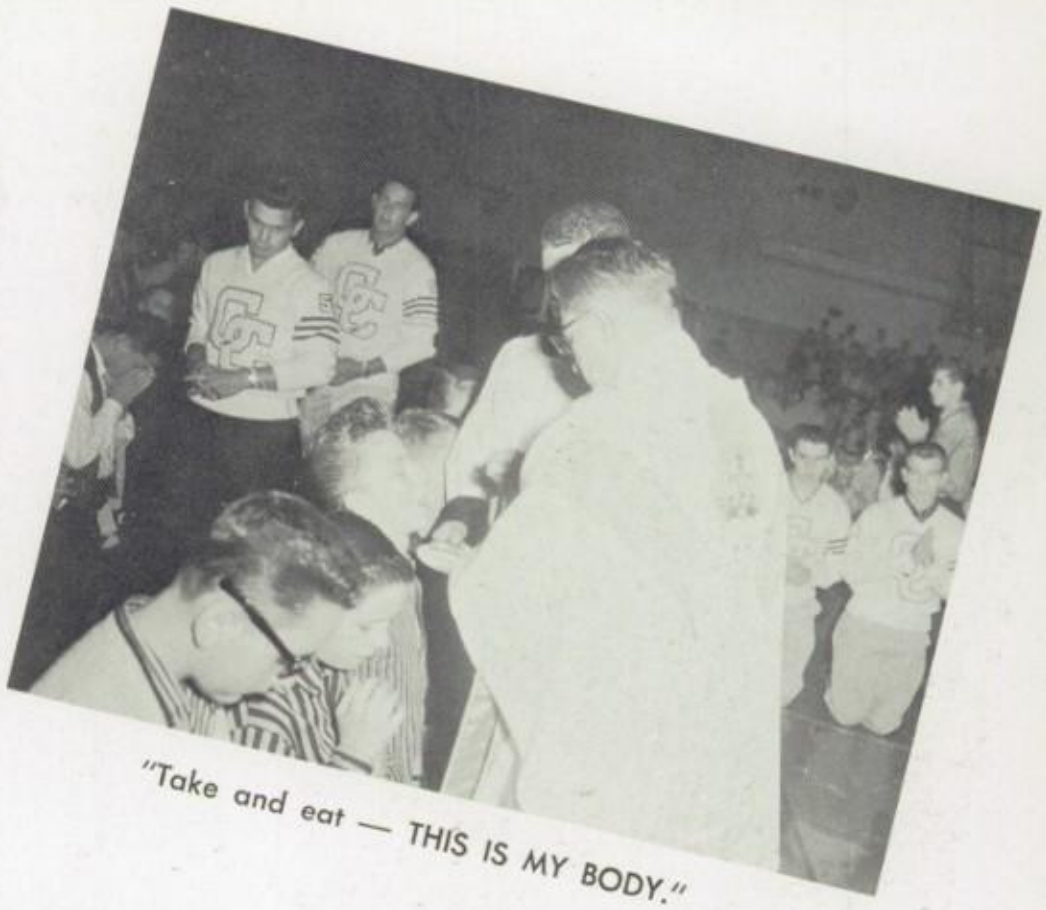
Man — "a creature composed of body and immortal soul." We are continually aware of the flesh and its needs and demands, but too often we are apt to forget, or try to forget the most important part of this complex, the soul. In order to remind us of our obligations to God, the Life of both soul and body, the school day is interspersed with acts which pay due homage and honor to God and at the same time nourish the soul and cause it to mature at the same rate as our physical and mental powers.

"Behold Him who takes away the sins of the world."



Class opening with prayer is a strong C.C. tradition.





"Take and eat — THIS IS MY BODY."

As Holy Week approaches, schoolwork halts abruptly, and the annual Retreat alone occupies our minds. Then we take a short, few hours to devote ourselves to renewing and restrengthening old ties with God and to think reflectively about our spiritual life. The corridors are strangely silent, the gymnasium becomes a House of God, and usually active young men are deep in prayer. It is above all else a period when each one wrestles with his own problem — the problem of Life.

Salutatorian

Seniors, soon alumni, from now on your paths through life will go in varied directions. You may be laurel-crowned for your achievements in different fields. You may become successful lawyers, eminent physicians, lauded engineers or scientists. In any number of fields you may carve your name in the granite of the world's accomplishments.

But, if in the thrill of your success, you forget . . . forget that in your formative years you asked God to give you goodness, discipline, and knowledge so that you might serve Him loyally, then Catholic Central, your Alma Mater, will be grief-stricken over the form of a prodigal son.

If, on the other hand, you never hear the applause of the crowd, your mark on the world is to all appearances lost like the path of a ship on the ocean, but God is your star, and loyalty to Him has consumed your energy, Catholic Central will be proud of you, and she will secretly hope that she has played some small part in the making of successful alumni.

Sincerely in Christ,
Father Kehoe.

To the Senior Class

A friend of mine, upon noticing my ring remarked, "Dan you can be justifiably proud of that ring. Through the years it has earned great respect because it represents an institution which is second to none. When you graduate from Catholic Central, you should be the finest Detroit has to offer." That made me reflect on why I should be among the finest. The reason was clearly evident in the Basilian motto: "Teach me Goodness, Discipline and Knowledge." Necessary to fulfill this motto inscribed on our rings, is the virtue of Perseverance, characteristic of the Class of '59. With it we shall face the obstacles of life so that, some day, we might achieve our eternal reward, happiness with our Almighty Creator in Heaven. Our Perseverance will nurture the seeds of Goodness, Discipline and Knowledge implanted in us over the years by our parents and teachers. We see the fruits of the tireless effort by our Moms and Dads and all this cannot be for naught. Parent and teacher have worked as one with God to build our character, to augment our virtue, to make us men. The Senior Class wishes to extend its sincere gratitude for the opportunity of being a part of Catholic Central.

JUNIOR CLASS

The book on the school crest, the Bible, is a symbol of Wisdom and Knowledge, of Truth both spiritual and secular which are so abundantly ours in our Holy Religion and in our academic work. A book is a lifeless thing unless it is empowered by the minds of men to convey its message and to fulfill its role as an instrument of truth. Here is the challenge, are we capable of it?

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Fleur de Lis symbolizes the Blessed Virgin. We who by our present vocation are called to be good students as well as exemplary Christians, have a perfect model in the Mother of God, who learned at the Fount of Knowledge and has set an example of virtuous life to inspire the best of men and minds in every generation.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The Cross, the sign and glory of Christianity, can be either a frightening burden or a welcome staff to the sin-laden world. Hold fast to the Cross of Christ during the tempests of life and shoulder manfully the little crosses which a truly Christian life entails, granted you as signs of God's special favor.

DISCIPLINE:

SECONDLY, THE BASILIAN FATHERS SEEK TO TEACH THEIR STUDENTS THE NECESSITY OF CHARACTER AND SELF-CONTROL, IF THEY ARE TO ATTAIN SUCCESS IN THIS LIFE AND IN ETERNITY. IT IMPLIES LEARNING THOSE PRINCIPLES WHICH MUST ALWAYS BE PUT FIRST, EVEN WHEN IT HURTS; IT MEANS LEARNING TO PLAY FAIRLY BOTH IN SPORTS AND IN THE GAME OF LIFE; IT MEANS SUBJECTING ONESELF TO THE DISCIPLINE REQUIRED TO BE AN OUTSTANDING MUSICIAN; AND IT ALSO MEANS DEVELOPING MORAL RESTRAINT AND GENTLEMANLY MANNERS. THUS DO THEY ENCOURAGE THEM TO KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS, FOR THIS IS THE HIGHEST DISCIPLINE OF ALL AND THE FAITHFUL OBSERVANCE OF THESE INSURES THE FAITHFUL OBSERVANCE OF ALL OTHER LAWS.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Catholic Central, long an independent, will now enter into the Central Division of the Catholic League. Through the past years of independency C. C. has sacrificed a great deal of the spirit, notoriety, and incentive which help to make a team outstanding. Despite these backfalls the Irish have compiled a very respectable 58 won, 43 lost, and 4 tied record against some of the strongest teams in the Midwest.

These games and their scores are soon forgotten. The lessons of courage, cooperation, and perseverance we learned, however, will long remain a means of nourishing the determination necessary to keep in the all important game of life.

The Boystown

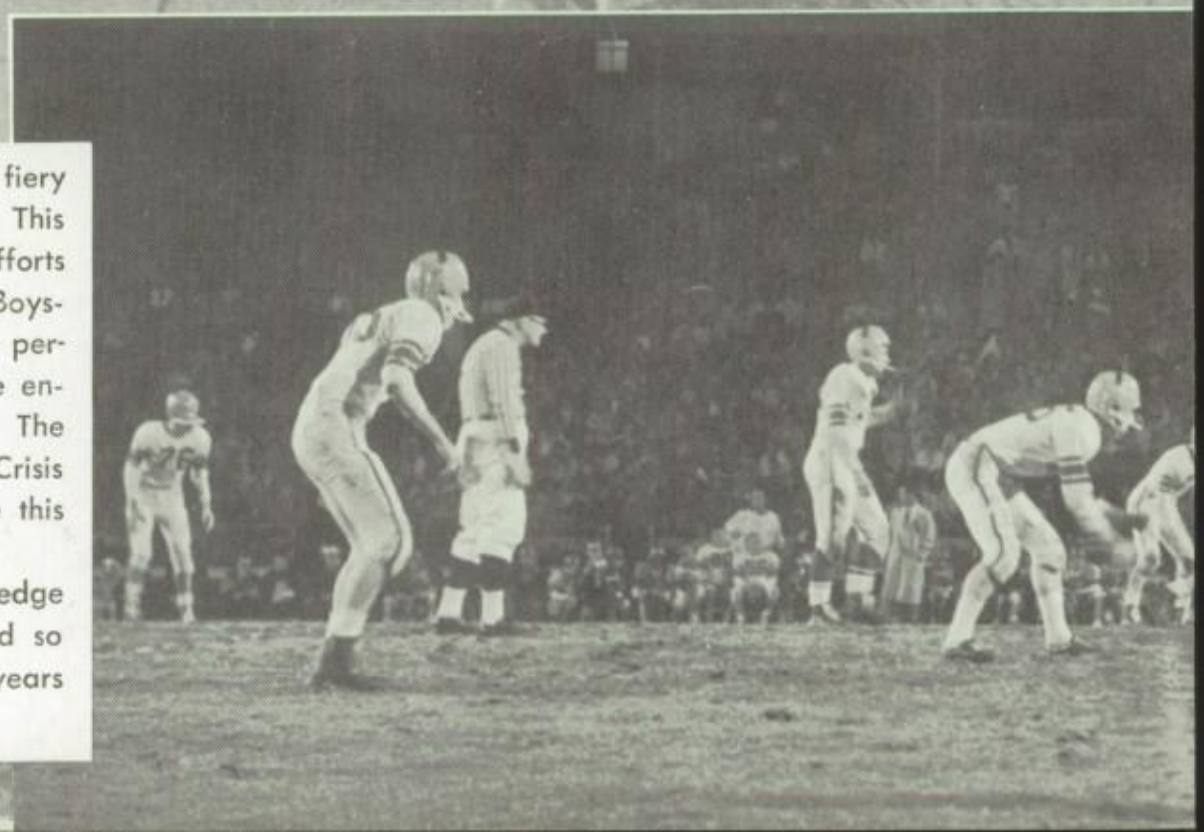
Father Kehoe, Father Regan, Msgr. Wegner, and Father Martin as seen at the last encounter.



The annual "Boys Bowl" has long been a series of fiery competition, sportsmanship and Shamrock spirit. This "classic" was originated in 1944 through the combined efforts of the late Father Flannigan, the famed founder of Boystown, and Central's tireless Father Martin. Though the personnel has changed during the past fourteen years, the enthusiasm and cooperation has remained ever constant. The Boy's Committee of Detroit for many years, and the Crisis Club in the past year, have strived, not only to make this series possible, but to make it in every way a success.

We would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge all those friends of Catholic Central who have worked so generously, with no idea of recompense, these many years to make a solid investment in the youth of the future.

The reserve team of Catholic Central has no Denny Spalla or Ron Ross, but they do have men on their team who try just as hard as their varsity counterparts. Fully aware that they will receive little glory these men of C. C. go out every afternoon to practice, that next year we may cheer a team that will be victorious over all competitors. In order to have the successful season they had the past year, Mr. Toth and Mr. Nolan sought to instill in this team of promising athletes the manly virtues of courage and perseverance which augment the necessary football requisites of drill, drive and determination.

There was a rather large turnout for the freshman football teams this fall which included some surprisingly talented players. As the season progressed, these boys developed into smooth-running, coordinated teams. Such qualities as speed, alertness, courage and drive began to replace the original characteristics, awkwardness and backwardness, of Freshmen. Our Heavy Freshmen soon had the reputation of being the team to beat." Yet this didn't happen until the last game when their string of victories was spoiled by Austin which won a soggy 6-0 contest.

The promise displayed by these up and coming athletes who will represent Catholic Central in the future, depends entirely on their desire to succeed. May this ambition be realized.

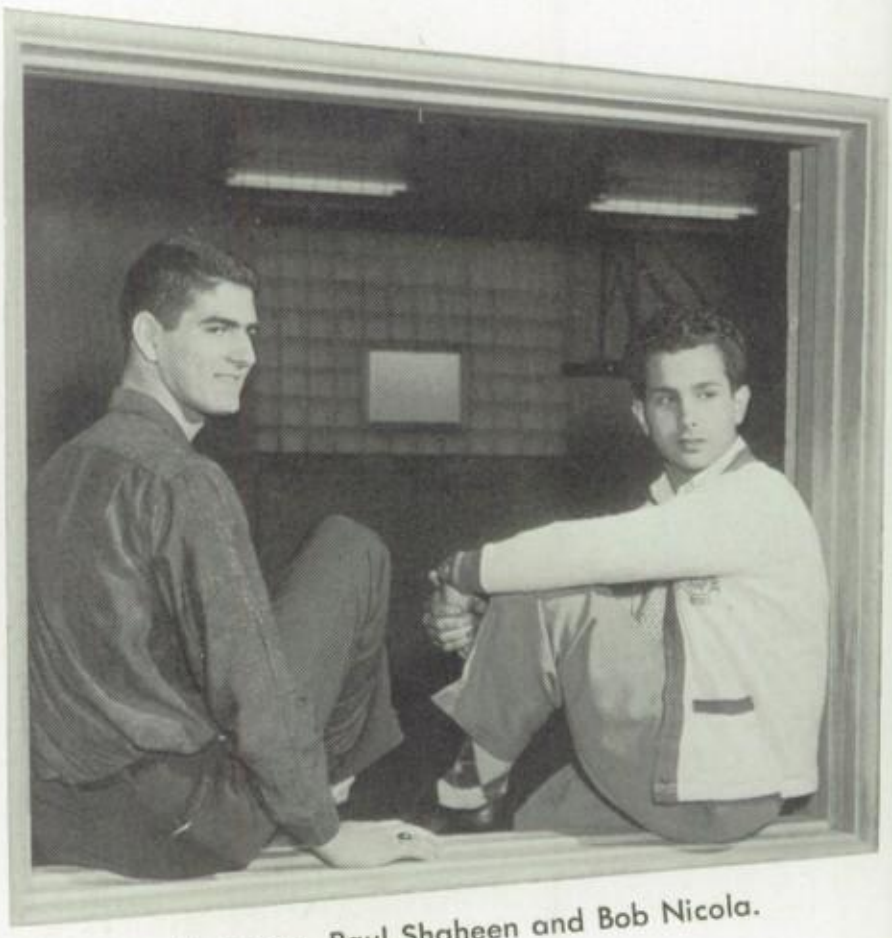
With the coming of Winter's icy winds the continuous sound of bouncing basketballs can be heard throughout the Shamrock gymnasium. All afternoon C. C. representatives, from the unheralded freshmen to the varsity, practice to put forth their best efforts for their Alma Mater. It is not hard to recall the din of the cheering crowds which intermittently brightened the season. All the cheers did not belong to the conquerors however. The Irish encountered their first heartbreak when they lost their early season Inkster contest by a single point. No C. C. man can honestly say he was not hoarse after Mike Walker tied the U. of D. game with only seconds left. Nor can it be denied that excitement was not brewing when we bottlenecked the Lansing-bound Cosmos only to lose late in the game. It is quite apparent that the experience gained by our three Sophomore first-stringers and the other underclassmen will make C. C. an extremely strong threat to future opponents.



Managers, Paul Shaheen and Bob Nicola.

Being a member of a reserve squad is a tough job. It requires a maximum of hard work with a minimum of recognition, a maximum of desire with a minimum of glory. And this is the reason why a good reserve is hard to find. Yet if he passes this test and uses his time well, he is sure to succeed when he represents his school as a Varsity player, because the future Varsity of a school depends on the strength of its present reserves.

Who tied my shoes laces?

The success of a freshman basketball team cannot be judged by its won-last record. Its main task is to learn, practice, and master the fundamentals of the game. Therefore, shooting and basic defensive skills were stressed and stressed and stressed. Because the team was well practiced in fundamentals, it enjoyed success in actual games. Even in those games which were lost the freshmen made a good account of themselves. The seeds were laid this year for a successful varsity in the years to come.

Jerry makes it look easy against Walled Lake.

Catholic Central scored another first this year — the first Detroit school to become a member of the Amateur Wrestling Association. The lack of proper facilities during most of the season did not dampen the spirit of our crew. Our men used each scrimmage and meet to gain experience, for muscle alone is not enough — as they found out in the State Regionals. Next year we should see the fruit of their labors, for graduation claims only one member of this year's team.

Complying with our school motto boxing helps to fulfill the second virtue, Self-Discipline. Fr. French's annual school tournament brings interest and spirit to the gym, but even more important it aids the boxers as well. It cannot be said that many boys lose by boxing. Oh, they may lose a bout now and then, but do they really lose? These boxing matches prepare the participants for the much more important moral battles each will be required to fight in life. In these school boxing bouts not too much is at stake, but in the battle of life "winner takes all" —Heaven.

March 9th. was a mighty happy moment for Fr. Enright, for on that night, at the annual Red Wing Face-off Dinner, he was awarded the Larry Aurie Memorial Trophy. This presentation was in recognition of Father's many unheralded contributions to amateur hockey in the Detroit area.

Our varsity hackey squad enjoyed a very successful season in 1958-59. In our first year in the new International Hockey League we captured the championship, both in the regular season and in the playoffs. The team lost only one game all year. After gaining an All-state berth in football Ron Ross performed brilliantly for the Shamrock ice team and won the league scoring title. Seniors Doug Dean, Rudy Seichter, and Captain Wally Mason along with Juniors John Tobin and Mark Esper were the sparkplugs of the team. Dean was an outstanding defenseman, while Seichter and Mason with Tobin and Esper were hustling forwards. The team showed that they could win under pressure by winning many close games. They could also pour it on, as they whipped St. Gregory's 13 to 0, and Benedictine 14 to 0. "Hats off" to the champions of the International Hockey League.

SKI TOW

Winter drives most sports enthusiasts indoors, but more hardy individuals can find opportunities to remain and enjoy the beauties of this season. Skiing is a popular sport if the numbers who showed enthusiastic interest at C. C. are any criterion. The club was loosely organized by its founder, Mr. Megel, in order to avoid the appearances of being an athletic contest or even a select group. It was intended as another means of encouraging the common interests of our students and to further enlarge the diversified activities of the school.

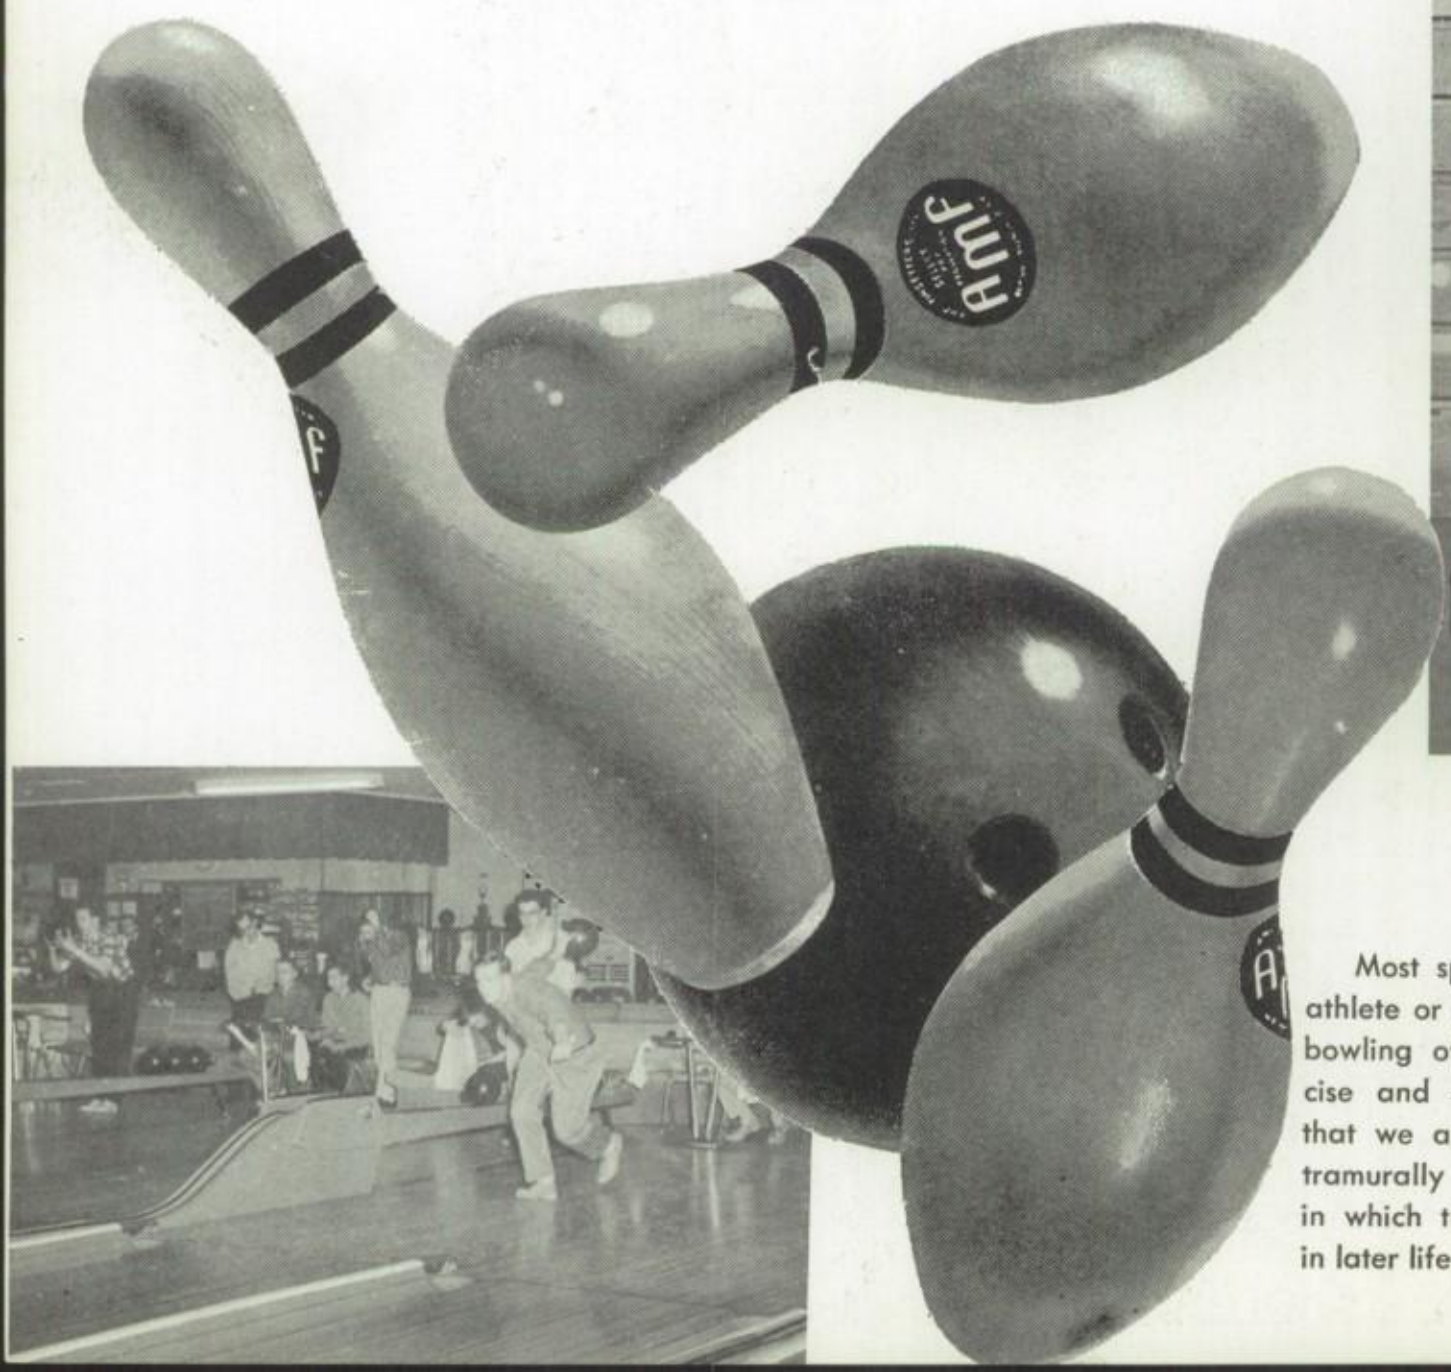
INTER SCHOOL TEAM



Most sports require that you be an outstanding athlete or an expert in that particular endeavor, but bowling offers everyone the opportunities of exercise and enjoyment. Fr. Koehler has seen to it that we are represented interscholastically and intramurally while introducing the boys to a sport in which they will be able to take an active part in later life.

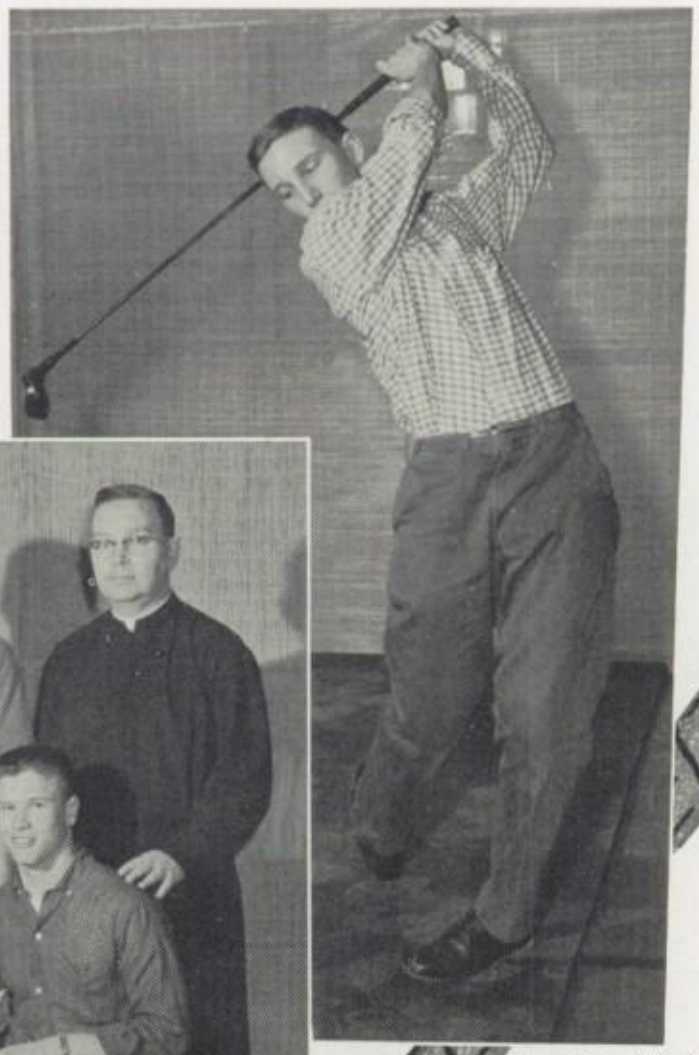
Hoping to better last year's accomplishments, our team is practicing on the back campus at every opportunity. With the return of four veterans, and several others aspiring to make the squad, Fr. Kelly and Mr. Yeager are looking forward to the new competition.



Captain Walter Tong shows the form which should lead him to state recognition.

Track has expanded greatly the last three years at C.C. Under the capable direction of Fr. Klosterman a large, strong and sure team has been developed for competition in the city and state in cross-country, track and field events.

Unlike most representative sports, track demands individual desire and efforts if one is to succeed. The combination of personal determination along with able coaching has afforded us with a team of which we may be justly proud.

Spring at Outer Drive and Hubbell inevitably means baseball. Catholic Central has sent a number of its alumni to the ranks of professional baseball. It is possible that more future major-leaguers are being developed on the back campus at the present time.

Last year Fr. Miller produced a top-notch varsity baseball team. One reason for their outstanding success was the pitching of such stalwarts as Mike Walker, Rick Mickiewicz, Terry Barden, and Mark Esper. This year's squad should prove to be one of the finest in the city. Along with the powerful pitching they have good hitting and speed.

Versatility is the mark of genius; of men capable of more than the ordinary requirements. Catholic Central's Band, whose number includes some of the best school musicians in the city, has the proud distinction of being both a Marching and a Concert Band. The former requires precision, coordination and a certain amount of individuality, while the latter requires of its musicians a modulation, discipline and harmony usually unattainable by a high school band.

The excellence in our Band is not a product of chance, but the result of a great lead of time and effort on the part of Detroit's finest conductor, Mr. William Watts, Fr. C. F. Harrison, its moderator, and primarily of the members of the Band itself.

The socialite at Catholic Central, allowing for the seasons of penance, will certainly find the year filled with opportunities to pick do a little high-stepping with his favorite date either at C. C.'s convertible gym-ballroom or other "night spots". In the first part of the year all events point to football, even the dances; the Bonfire Blaze, the Football Ball, and the Homecoming Dance. Later, a little more informally, our dances show up as sock hops after basketball games and as the tribute to our cage team. Finally, at the end of the year, come our elite events — the proms: Quad High, Junior, and Senior, thereby climaxing the school's social events for another year.

Gabriel Richard Club

The Gabriel Richard Club is looked upon by the students either with high respect or disregard. It is truly highly regarded by some by the fact of its exclusiveness, having as its membership requirements the possession of an "A" average with no mark lower than a "B". This, however, did not deter the sixty students who swelled its ranks this year.

Those who disregard it often maintain that these "geniuses" carry on a carefree existence, not having to worry about failing an examination or receiving a good mark. They fail to realize that the Gabriel member is one who has used well his "five or three or one God-given talent.

Therefore this hard-earned membership gives not the immunity to failure but rather the responsibility of maintaining the high scholarship and deep respect significant of the club.

C. C. REPRESENTATIVES: Terry Barden, Pat Kennedy, Bill Terrill (Pres.), Dan Bohn, Mike Devine.

Five years ago Father Stoba began an organization called Quad High, composed of four Northwest Catholic schools; Mercy, Immaculata, University of Detroit High and Catholic Central. His intention was to improve, in some significant way, the spiritual, social and scholastic well-being of the students of these schools.

Spiritually speaking, our annual, well attended Holy Hour has helped us exercise the beliefs of our Catholic faith and join in our common heritage. Socially, the organization has worked hard to present a yearly dance. The proceeds from this dance have aided the academic objectives of the club by contributing a one year scholarship to a deserving student from each of the four schools. In addition to this, a great amount of enjoyment and personal satisfaction has stemmed from the past Art and Science Fairs which have afforded the students an opportunity to display the results of their varied interests and competitive spirit.

All in all the many hours of planning and hard work have paid off in fulfilling Quad High's reason for existence. It has stressed the close similarities and interests of everyone involved and has strived thereby to achieve unity from diversity.

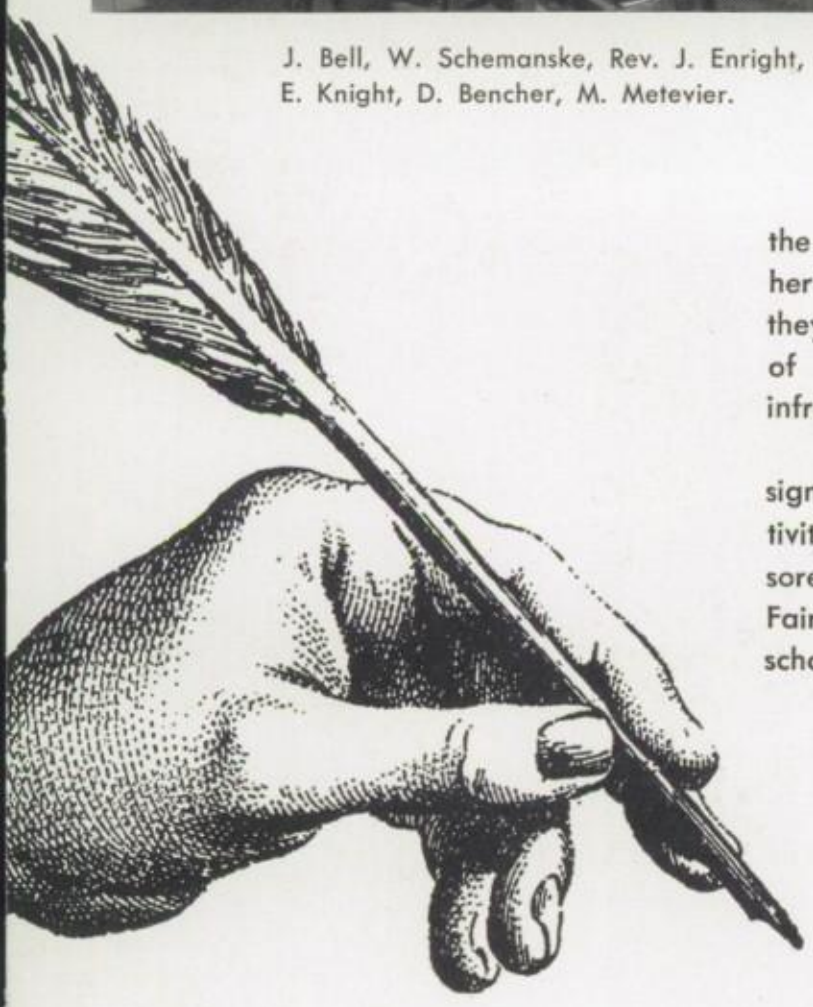
Publicity Staff



Catholic Central is represented to the city by the newspaper articles written about it; her staff, her students and her activities. For the most part they would not be there if it were not for the labors of our hard working Publicity Staff, who not too infrequently write the articles themselves.

Our Art and Display group is responsible for the signs and decorations required by the many activities which are held at the school. They co-sponsored, with the Lumen Club, the Art and Science Fair and the seniors of the group represented the school at the Michigan Scholastic Art Exhibition.

SHAMROCK

A school yearbook is meant to be a chronicle of the year's events. But apart from listing and enumerating each episode, date and detail, it should be in itself a piece of literary artistry. Through fits and starts, moments of quiet and hours of work, it introduces the docile, young minds of its staff members to the problems and solutions of journalistic composition, editing and printing. Each class is represented on the staff so that, as editors and moderators fade from the picture, ideas and enthusiasm will never falter.

The staff of SHAMROCK '59 have tried to record as accurately as possible the life of Catholic Central in a fresh and readable manner. If they have achieved this their hopes and efforts have not been in vain.

AS WE SEE IT

by FRED RAYMOND

"Spectrum", as its name implies, encompasses all varieties of color. For this reason Catholic Central chose "The Spectrum" for the name of its student journalistic publication, because it covers all phases and colors of school life and activities. The news concerning these varied events is published monthly — by, for and about Catholic Central students.

Through the practice of writing today, our staff reporters may become the journalistic greats of tomorrow. This has proven to be the case in the past, because the experiences of youth are invaluable in forming our character and molding our future.

A well-written and high-minded newspaper, as well as any other worthwhile endeavor, is made so, not by the material alone, but by the individuality and spirituality of its staff.

FUND DRIVE HUGE SUCCESS

by Tom Battel

Almost one month has passed since the students of Catholic Central began the task of raising money for their Iron Maiden.

The benefit drive displayed the enormous degree of concern of the students for the financial well being of their school and gave them experience in citizenship.

The men who worked late into the night decorating the school and those who in any way participated in making the drive a success, should be thanked sincerely.

Statistics and highlights are always interesting. The Freshmen brought in $6,[illegible]. Looking at it in a different way, their total effort was 106% of the school quota. The Seniors, less their five top salesmen, pulled 301% of their quota instead of 406%. The Frosh, less their five top salesmen drew 298%.

During the length of the drive, Catholic Central sold an estimated [illegible] tickets per minute. This was due to the good food and good lunch both the events and school exhibited.

The grand total was $49,297.00 [illegible] of the [illegible] wanted [illegible]

Fr. Higgins to Give Senior - Junior Retreat

The holy season of Lent again brings us closer to our great spiritual experience, the making of our annual retreat.

The retreat for the ninth and tenth grades will take place on March 20 and 21, and will be under the direction of Father Casper Watts, C.S.B. The eleventh and twelfth grades will have their retreat on March 23, 24, 25. It will be conducted by Father Leland Higgins, C.S.B.

Fr. Casper, a native of Chicago who was ordained in 1952, will come to us from St. Paul Monastery, Detroit. His comparatively short priestly career has been spent in the Passionist Missionary Band and includes recent retreat assignments at Catholic Central of Toledo, the Academy in New Lexington, Ohio, and the yearly student retreat at [illegible] Holy Cross School in [illegible].

Fr. Higgins, [illegible] Detroiter [illegible] was ordained in 1934. [illegible]

"Science under God" is the Lumen Club's motto. It stresses the proper relationship between man-made wonders and the God-made wonderworkers. In the four years of its existence, the club has grown from a few novice attempts to a group of skilled and well-disciplined amateur scientists. Each year finds the members further enhancing the prestige of Catholic Central by winning top honors in competition with other high schools.

A scientist, or anyone else for that matter, is only as good as the efforts he puts forward to develop the particular aptitudes and abilities Almighty God has given him and him alone.

Omnibus Club

Interests vary from one man to another, but all men have a common yearning to know more about the world in which they live. The Omnibus Club was started for the specific purpose of pursuing and investigating the varieties of life — as expressed in the many facets of culture, in order to broaden the horizons of the experiences of its members. Each week the God-given powers of speech, sight, thought and activity are stimulated by new and scholarly topics.

Outside groups and speakers varied the "diet" of club members.

The Glee Club adds its vocal beauty to the First Friday Mass.

One of the most select groups on our campus is the Glee Club. The Fathers Donoher know exactly the voices needed to make an outstanding vocal group. To be numbered among this elite of the music circles is indeed an accomplishment; a fit reward for daily hour-long practices and rehearsals and for successful effort in meeting the exacting requirements imposed upon fine singers. Without their melodious voices, many a school event would be good rather than excellent.

St. Basil's Servers' Club

The most intelligent view on anything is given by the man who knows the most about it; and the reason he does know so much is from his close association with the subject. The server of Mass which is such an integral part of his religion, and with Christ in the Blessed Sacrament, should be an intelligent Catholic — a believing, a practicing and an outstanding individual in the Christian community. To this end Catholic Central students are urged to learn and carry out the privileges afforded them as servers at the Altar of God.

St. John Bosco Sacristans' Club

The school chapel is the heart of the scholastic life at Catholic Central. Here the priests learn of humility and patience from their Master and the student finds peace and comfort away from the cares and distraction which the world outside presents. Those boys who devote themselves to keeping the chapel neat and clean and who by their care preserve the reverential atmosphere found only there, are not always noticed but they are not unappreciated by the staff and students.

"Give and it shall be given to you . . ." Charity is a funny thing when you analyze it. Not only do we get the satisfaction of having done a good deed but we are also rewarded for it spiritually. When the Missions call to us for assistance, and when we reply with money, prayers, stamps or whatever else, we are doubly blessed in return. Woe, the man who is troubled in his heart, because he will not share what he has, whether it be time, money or love.
